4 SUSTAINABILITY & ETHICAL PURCHASING POLICY

4.1 General

At CBS we take social and environmental factors into consideration alongside financial factors in making decisions on the purchase of goods and the commissioning of services.

Our purchasing decisions should where practicable consider whole life cost and the associated risks and implications for society and the environment. Procurement can make a significant contribution to our goals of sustainable economic development and resource minimisation by ensuring that the goods and services we buy consider optimum environmental performance.

Procurement has an additional role to play in minimising any risk of social exploitation within the supply chain. We believe that this not only makes business sense, it also has the potential to improve the living and working standards of people around the world.

This policy standard sets out the detailed requirements and minimum expectations of our policy of sustainable and ethical procurement. Specifically, it addresses the expectation that our staff and suppliers have a natural respect for our ethical standards in the context of their own particular culture and that relationships with our suppliers are based on the principle of fair and honest dealings at all times. The same principle of fair and honest dealings must be extended to all others with whom our suppliers do business, including employees, sub-contractors and other third parties and their local communities.

More specifically, we seek to avoid adverse social and environmental impact in the supply-chain, the reduction of environmental impact from service operations and the purchase of products that meet recognised environmental standards.

4.2 Ethical Procurement

Our ethical objective is to ensure that people in the supply-chain are treated with respect and have rights with regard to employment including the rights to freely choose employment, freedom of association, payment of a living wage, working hours that comply with national laws, equal opportunities, recognised employment relationship, freedom from intimidation and to a safe and healthy working environment.

We will prefer organisations that share our commitment to sound environmental performance and improvement. We will develop ad-hoc partnerships with our suppliers and work together to minimise the environmental and social impacts of our supply chain.

Sustainability requirements will be considered and, where appropriate, these will be specified in initial tender documentation for both suppliers and contractors, to ensure suppliers and contractors are aware of our environmental and social criteria at an early stage in the tender process.

Small firms, voluntary and community organisations, social enterprises and ethnic minority businesses are considered members of our supply chain as they play an important role in the local economy and contribute to social cohesion.

Environmental Impact

Where practicable, we will purchase goods that have a minimal impact upon the environment, both local and global. Factors taken into consideration will include sustainability of resource production, transportation, full life energy/raw material consumption and waste production and percentage recycled content.

Wherever possible we will consume and purchase less by identifying and eradicating, wasteful practices within our own operation and those operations where we have influence.

We will re-cycle goods at the end of their life, where this is possible and where it is not possible ensure disposal in the most environmentally sound manner.

To promote and embed the adoption of sustainable services, we will develop and support through appropriate awareness programmes, new methodologies for identifying needs; appraising options; agreeing design and specification; supplier selection; tender evaluation; contract management and supplier development.

4.3 Procurement process

Environmental and social factors shall be considered in the purchasing process. Specifically, this includes considering what the product is made from, the product durability, where it is made and by whom, the efficiency of the product during use and the processes involved in its production and distribution, what the disposal requirements are and if it can be reused or recycled.

We will add sustainability into the procurement cycle: identifying needs; appraising options; design and specification; supplier selection; tender evaluation; contract management and supplier development.

We will support national policy and legislation to reduce CO2 emissions, ban ozone depleting substances and protect biodiversity.

4.4 Ethical Procurement Standard

We expect our suppliers to comply with legal requirements and to adopt the following moral principles:

4.5 Regulatory compliance

Suppliers shall comply with all national and other applicable law and regulations.

Where the national law and this Standard are in conflict, the highest standards consistent with national law should be applied.

Where the provisions of law and this Standard are not in conflict but address the same subject, the provision, which affords the greatest protection to people and the environment, should be applied.

4.6 Employment

There is no forced, bonded or involuntary prison labour.

All employees without distinction, have the right to join or form trade unions of their own choosing and, where a significant proportion of the workforce agree, to bargain collectively.

Employees' representatives are not discriminated against and have access to carry out their representative functions in the workplace.

4.7 Elimination of child labour

The long-term elimination of child labour should take place in a manner consistent with the best interests of the children concerned.

Suppliers should develop or participate in and contribute to policies and programmes that provide for the transition of any child found to be performing child labour to enable her or him to attend and remain in quality education until no longer a child.

Children and young persons under 18 shall not be employed at night or in hazardous conditions.

4.8 Right to a living wage

Wages paid for a standard working week meet or exceed national (or, where applicable, local) legal standards.

In any event, wages should not be paid in kind and should be enough to meet basic needs.

All workers should be provided with written and comprehensible information about their employment conditions in respect to wages before they enter employment and the particulars of their wages for the pay period concerned each time that they are paid.
Avoidance of excessive working hours

Standard working hours must comply with national laws and national benchmark industry standards; whichever affords greater protection to the employee.

All Employees should not on a regular basis be required to work in excess of 48 hours per week and should be provided with at least one day off for every 7-day period on average.

Overtime requested by the employer must be voluntary and must not be requested on a regular basis.

4.9 No discrimination

A policy of equality for all should be in place and there should be no discrimination in hiring, compensation, access to training, promotion, termination or retirement based on race, caste, national origin, religion, age, disability, gender, marital status, sexual orientation, religious beliefs, union membership or political affiliation.

4.10 Provision of regular employment

To every extent possible work performed must be on the basis of recognised employment relationship established through national law and practice.

Obligations to employees under labour or social security laws and regulations arising from the regular employment relationship should not be avoided

Examples include the abuse of labour-only contracting, sub-contracting, or homeworking arrangements, through apprenticeship schemes where there is no real intent to impart skills or provide regular employment, or the excessive use of fixed-term contracts of employment.

4.11 No harsh or inhumane treatment

Physical abuse or discipline, the threat of physical abuse, sexual or other harassment and verbal abuse or other forms of intimidation shall be prohibited. Safe and Healthy Working Conditions We expect our suppliers:

To provide a safe and healthy working environment bearing in mind international standards, the prevailing knowledge of the industry and of any specific hazards

To take adequate steps to prevent accidents and injury to health arising out of, associated with, or occurring in the course of work, by minimising, so far as is reasonably practicable, the causes of hazards inherent in the working practice and environment.

Provide workers with suitable and sufficient health and safety training, in order that they fully understand the hazards associated with the work activity and environment and the correct practices required to minimise the risks.

Provide suitable and adequate welfare facilities including toilet facilities, drinking water and food storage where required. Accommodation, where provided, shall be clean, safe and meet the needs of the workers.

To assign responsibility for health and safety to a senior management representative.

4.12 Environment Policy Principles

We will use the following best practice principles to guide the implementation of our policy:

Principle 1: Working together

We will:

work collaboratively with suppliers in pursuit of this standard;

guide relationships by the principle of continual improvement;

welcome rather than penalise suppliers identifying activities that fall below this standard (undertaken by themselves or sub-contractors) and who agree to pursue their aspirations;

consider a similar ethical trading standard as a reasonable alternative where suppliers are already working towards sustainability.

Principle 2: Making a difference

We will, and we expect our suppliers to:

Use an environmental and social risk-based approach to the implementation of this standard;

Focus attention on those parts of the supply chain where the risk of not meeting this standard is highest and where the maximum difference can be made with resources available.

CBS's suppliers should:

Be prepared to demonstrate the basis of their approach with regard to the above.

Principle 3: Awareness raising and training

We will, and we expect our suppliers to:

Ensure that all relevant people are provided with appropriate training and guidelines to implement the requirements of this standard.

Principle 4: Monitoring and independent verification

We will:

Recognise that implementation of this standard may be assessed through monitoring and independent verification, and that these methods will be developed as our understanding grows.

We will expect our suppliers to:

Provide reasonable access to all relevant information, premises, and workers (through interviews) and co-operate in any assessment against this standard – using reasonable endeavours to ensure that sub-contractors do the same.

Use reasonable endeavours to provide workers covered by this standard with a confidential means to report to the supplier failure to observe its requirements.

Principle 5: Continuous improvement

We will, and we expect our suppliers to:

apply a continual improvement approach in agreeing schedules for improvement plans with suppliers not meeting this standard;

base improvement plans on individual case circumstances; Ultimately, CBS will not do business with a supplier where serious breaches of this standard are identified and where the supplier consistently fails to take corrective action within an agreed timescale.

Policy Summary Social responsibility

Suppliers must uphold basic human rights.

Suppliers must ensure that all employees have attained the minimum age required in order to be legally employed.

Employees must be free to choose to work for the supplier and free to leave the supplier and there should be no forced, bonded or involuntary labour.

Employee wages and benefits should at least meet industry or national legal standards

Employee working hours and holiday allowances should comply with industry standards or national laws.

Employee working conditions must be safe and hygienic.

Suppliers should always work within the laws of their country.

Employees should have freedom to join trade unions or other representative organisations.

4.13 Supplier management

Supplier's confidential information must not be disclosed to any third party or used in any way without the consent of the supplier.

The relationship between CBS and the supplier should be open and honest and no relevant information should deliberately be withheld by either party.

In competitive situations unsuccessful suppliers should be fully debriefed about the procurement process and the rationale around the decision making process.

All suppliers should be treated fairly at all stages of the procurement process.

The arbitrary or unfair use of purchasing power or influence is discouraged

With regard to size, maturity and location of suppliers, consideration should be given to the magnitude of business awarded to a supplier, the impact of that business on the supplier and the level of dependence on that business.

- If an investigation is needed, work with the police and offer any assistance needed to help in their enquiries.
- Managers have a responsibility to act in a way that does not incite or increase the likelihood of violence.
- Any manager found to be encouraging or inciting violence or not resolving potentially violent or abusive situations may be subject to disciplinary action.

Staff

All staff have personal responsibility for their own behaviour and for ensuring that they comply with this policy.

There are a number of things that staff can do to help prevent work-related violence:

- Be aware of the company's policy and comply with it.
- Offer good customer service and be aware of customer needs.
- Recognise the potential for work-related violence and take action to resolve it early on.
- Staff should take positive action and, for example, contact a manager if they think that someone might cause problems.

- Don't accept instances of work-related violence directed towards you or others. Staff should report any instances of violence, threats or abuse, including any details about when it happened, who was involved and any relevant circumstances that may have contributed to the incident.
- Serious incidents should be reported in the DOB book and on an incident report kept on site.
- Be supportive of colleagues who are victims or witnessed work-related violence. Suggest additional measures to managers which might help to prevent and manage work-related violence.
- Staff have a responsibility to act in a way that does not incite or increase the likelihood of violence.
- Any staff member found to be encouraging or inciting violence may be subject to disciplinary action.
- violence.

15.5 Risk Assessments

The risk assessments for work-related violence are kept within the site specific Assignment Instructions.

The risk assessments were conducted by the senior manager and are reviewed every year or more frequently if required.

The risks were assessed by talking to staff, reviewing the incident book and considering the work environment. If staff believe a risk factor has not been covered by the assessment nor have ideas on further prevention measures, they should discuss these with their line manager. The contents of the risk assessment are communicated to all staff and appropriate training will be given.

15.6 Training

The following training is provided:

All staff, including new staff, receive awareness training on work-related violence, our policy and procedures, how to prevent work-related violence, reporting procedures and what to do following an incident.

Managers are trained as above, as well as on how to handle complaints effectively.

15.7 Actions following an Incident

If a staff member is being abused, threatened or attacked, they should approach their manager or a colleague for help. Managers should respond to the situation by talking to the perpetrator, explaining that their behaviour is not acceptable. They should try to resolve the problem and, if that is not possible, call security for assistance.

Medical assistance should be provided immediately where required. The police should be informed of a serious incident involving physical attack or serious cases of threatening or verbal abuse. Police should also be informed of persistent cases of violence, threats and abuse.

If available CCTV records of incidents should be kept in case the police need them. All incidents should be recorded in the DOB book and Incident Report completed and passed to line managers.

Staff members will be encouraged to provide support to any victims or witnesses of violence, threats or abuse through appropriate training, and managers should provide support, including, where needed, allowing time off work for individuals to recover.

15.8 Reporting and Recording systems

Staff have a responsibility to report incidences of work-related violence, including threats and verbal abuse, to line managers. All incidents, including physical attacks, serious or persistent threats and verbal abuse, must be recorded in the DOB book on site and an Incident Report completed. This asks for details of when the incident occurred, who was involved, descriptions of the perpetrator and any relevant circumstances that may have contributed to the incident.

Any incidents resulting in major injury to staff or that cause staff to be off work for three days or more must be reported under the RIDDOR Regulations 1995. Any incident which results in a member of the public being taken directly to hospital from the premises must also be reported. Managers should contact the HSE Incident Contact Centre on 0845 300 9923 to report the incident where appropriate.

If managers notice an increase in reports, several reports within a short period or reports about the same perpetrator, managers should record the details, ask staff for more information and take action.

16 HARASSMENT IN THE WORKPLACE POLICY

16.1 General

This statement sets out the CBS Policy on Harassment in the Workplace.

16.2 Management

Management has the primary responsibility for:

Not permitting offensive, intimidating, malicious or insulting behaviour, an abuse or misuse of power through means that undermine, humiliate, denigrate or injure the recipient. [Bullying]

Not permitting unwanted conduct relating to a relevant protected characteristic, which has the purpose or effect of violating the Individual's dignity or creating an intimidating, hostile, degrading, humiliating or offensive environment for that Individual. [Harassing]

16.3 Definition of Work Related Violence

It has been argued that behaviour that is considered bullying by one person may be considered firm management by another. Most people agree on extreme cases of bullying and harassment but it is sometimes the 'grey' areas that cause most problems. As a matter of good practice CBS consider the following to be unacceptable behaviour in the organisation, although the list is not exhaustive and includes:

- spreading malicious rumours or insulting someone by word or behaviour
- copying memos that are critical about someone to others who do not need to know ridiculing or demeaning someone – picking on them or setting them up to fail
- exclusion or victimisation
- unfair treatment
- overbearing supervision or other misuse of power or position
- unwelcome sexual advances – touching, standing too close, display of offensive materials, asking for sexual favours, making decisions on the basis of sexual advances being accepted or rejected
- making threats or comments about job security without foundation

- deliberately undermining a competent worker by overloading and constant criticism preventing individuals progressing by intentionally blocking promotion or training opportunities

It is also recognised that bullying and harassment is unlawful and will not be tolerated.

The Policy should be read in conjunction with other Company policies [e.g. Equal Opportunities etc.] and grievance procedures detailed in the Staff Handbook will apply to Harassment allegations.

16.4 Responsibility of Staff and Management

Bullying and harassment are not only unacceptable on moral grounds but may, if unchecked or badly handled, create serious problems for the Company:

- poor morale and poor employee relations
- loss of respect for managers and supervisors
- poor performance
- lost productivity
- absence
- resignations
- damage to company reputation
- tribunal and other court cases and payment of unlimited compensation.

16.5 Effective Legislation

The Company Policy will operate in accordance with but not limited to the following Legislation.

- Equality Act 2010
- Disability Discrimination Act 1995
- Equal Pay Act 1970 (Amendment) Regulations 2003
- The Race Relations Act 1976, (Amendment) Act 2000 and Regulations 2003

- Sex Discrimination Act 1975 (Amendment) Regulations 2003

17 DATA PROTECTION

17.1 General

CBS needs to collect and use certain types of information about the Individuals or Service Users who come into contact with CBS in order to carry on their work. This personal information must be collected and dealt with appropriately whether is collected on paper, stored in a computer database, or recorded on other material and there are safeguards to ensure this under the Data Protection Act 1998.

17.2 The Data Protection Act

The Data Protection Act is founded on eight principles of data protection. These say that data must:

- Be processed fairly and lawfully
- Be obtained only for specific, lawful purposes
- Be adequate, relevant and not excessive
- Be accurate and kept up to date
- Not be held for any longer than necessary
- Processed in accordance with the rights of data subject
- Be protected in appropriate ways
- Not be transferred outside the European Economic Area (EEA), unless that country or territory also ensures an adequate level of protection

17.3 Data Controller

CBS is the Data Controller under the Act, which means that it determines what purposes personal information held, will be used for. It is also responsible for notifying the Information Commissioner of the data it holds or is likely to hold, and the general purposes that this data will be used for.

17.4 Disclosure

CBS may share data with other agencies such as the local authority, funding bodies and other voluntary agencies.

The Individual/Service User will be made aware in most circumstances how and with whom their information will be shared. There are circumstances where the law allows CBS to disclose data (including sensitive data) without the data subject's consent.

These are:

- Carrying out a legal duty or as authorised by the Secretary of State
- Protecting vital interests of an Individual/Service User or other person
- The Individual/Service User has already made the information public
- Conducting any legal proceedings, obtaining legal advice or defending any legal rights
- Monitoring for equal opportunities purposes – i.e. race, disability or religion
- Providing a confidential service where the Individual/Service User's consent cannot be obtained or where it is reasonable to proceed without consent: e.g. where we would wish to avoid forcing stressed or ill Individuals/Service Users to provide consent signatures.

CBS regards the lawful and correct treatment of personal information as very important to successful working, and to maintaining the confidence of those with whom we deal. CBS intends to ensure that personal information is treated lawfully and correctly.

To this end, CBS will adhere to the Principles of Data Protection, as detailed in the Data Protection Act 1998.

Specifically, the Principles require that personal information:

- Shall be processed fairly and lawfully and, in particular, shall not be processed unless specific conditions are met,
- Shall be obtained only for one or more of the purposes specified in the Act, and shall not be processed in any manner incompatible with that purpose or those purposes,
- Shall be adequate, relevant and not excessive in relation to those purpose(s)
- Shall be accurate and, where necessary, kept up to date,
- Shall not be kept for longer than is necessary
- Shall be processed in accordance with the rights of data subjects under the Act,
- Shall be kept secure by the Data Controller who takes appropriate technical and other measures to prevent unauthorised or unlawful processing or accidental loss or destruction of, or damage to, personal information,

- Shall not be transferred to a country or territory outside the European Economic Area unless that country or territory ensures an adequate level of protection for the rights and freedoms of Individuals/Service Users in relation to the processing of personal information.
- CBS will, through appropriate management and strict application of criteria and controls:
- Observe fully conditions regarding the fair collection and use of information
- Meet its legal obligations to specify the purposes for which information is used
- Collect and process appropriate information, and only to the extent that it is needed to fulfill its operational needs or to comply with any legal requirements
- Ensure the quality of information used
- Ensure that the rights of people about whom information is held, can be fully exercised under the Act.
- These include:
 - The right to be informed that processing is being undertaken,
 - The right of access to one's personal information
 - The right to prevent processing in certain circumstances and the right to correct, rectify, block or erase information which is regarded as wrong information)
 - Take appropriate technical and organisational security measures to safeguard personal information
 - Ensure that personal information is not transferred abroad without suitable safeguards
 - Treat people justly and fairly whatever their age, religion, disability, gender, sexual orientation or ethnicity when dealing with requests for information
 - Set out clear procedures for responding to requests for information

17.5 Data Collection

Informed consent is when: -

- An Individual/Service User clearly understands why their information is needed, who it will be shared with, the possible consequences of them agreeing or refusing the proposed use of the data and then gives their consent.

- CBS will ensure that data is collected within the boundaries defined in this policy. This applies to data that is collected in person, or by completing a form.
- When collecting data, CBS will ensure that the Individual/Service User:
 - Clearly understands why the information is needed
 - Understands what it will be used for and what the consequences are should the Individual/Service User decide not to give consent to processing
 - As far as reasonably possible, grants explicit consent, either written or verbal for data to be processed
 - Is, as far as reasonably practicable, competent enough to give consent and has given so freely without any duress
 - Has received sufficient information on why their data is needed and how it will be used

17.6 Data Storage

Information and records relating to service users will be stored securely and will only be accessible to authorised staff and volunteers.

Information will be stored for only as long as it is needed or required statute and will be disposed of appropriately.

It is CBS's responsibility to ensure all personal and company data is non-recoverable from any computer system previously used within the organisation, which has been passed on/sold to a third party.

17.7 Data Access and Accuracy

All Individuals/Service Users have the right to access the information CBS holds about them. CBS will also take reasonable steps ensure that this information is kept up to date by asking data subjects whether there have been any changes.

In addition, CBS will ensure that:

- It has a Manager with specific responsibility for ensuring compliance with Data Protection
- Everyone processing personal information understands that they are contractually responsible for following good data protection practice
- Everyone processing personal information is appropriately trained to do so

- Everyone processing personal information is appropriately supervised
- Anybody wanting to make enquiries about handling personal information knows what to do
- It deals promptly and courteously with any enquiries about handling personal information
- It describes clearly how it handles personal information
- It will regularly review and audit the ways it holds, manage and use personal information
- It regularly assesses and evaluates its methods and performance in relation to handling personal information
- All staff are aware that a breach of the rules and procedures identified in this policy may lead to disciplinary action being taken against them
- This policy will be updated as necessary to reflect best practice in data management, security and control and to ensure compliance with any changes or amendments made to the Data Protection Act 1998.

18 SOCIAL MEDIA POLICY

18.1 General

Employees of CBS may be able to access social media services and social networking websites at work, either through company IT systems or via their own personal equipment.

This social media policy describes the rules governing use of social media at CBS. It sets out how staff must behave when using the company's social media accounts. It also explains the rules about using personal social media accounts at work and describes what staff may say about the company on their personal accounts.

18.2 Purpose of the Policy

Social media can bring significant benefits to [company name], particularly for building relationships with current and potential customers.

However, it's important that employees who use social media within the company do so in a way that enhances the company's prospects.

A misjudged status update can generate complaints or damage the company's reputation. There are also security and data protection issues to consider.

This policy explains how employees can use social media safely and effectively.

18.3 Scope

This policy applies to all staff, contractors and volunteers at [company name] who use social media while working — no matter whether for business or personal reasons. It applies no matter whether that social media use takes place on company premises, while travelling for business or while working from home.

Social media sites and services include (but are not limited to):

- Popular social networks like Twitter and Facebook
- Online review websites like Reevoo and Trustpilot
- Sharing and discussion sites like Delicious and Reddit
- Photographic social networks like Flickr and Instagram
- Question and answer social networks like Quora and Yahoo Answers

- Professional social networks like LinkedIn and Sunzu

18.4 Responsibilities

Everyone who operates a company social media account or who uses their personal social media accounts at work has some responsibility for implementing this policy.

However, these people have key responsibilities:

- The senior management are ultimately responsible for ensuring that CBS uses social media safely, appropriately and in line with the company's objectives,
- The Company is responsible for providing apps and tools to manage the company's social media presence and track any key performance indicators. They are also responsible for proactively monitoring for social media security threats.
- The Company is responsible for rolling out marketing ideas and campaigns through our social media channels.
- The Company is responsible for ensuring requests for assistance and support made via social media are followed up.

18.5 Basic Advice

Regardless of which social networks employees are using, or whether they're using business or personal accounts, following these simple rules helps avoid the most common pitfalls:

- Know the social network. Employees should spend time becoming familiar with the social network before contributing. It's important to read any FAQs and understand what is and is not acceptable on a network before posting messages or updates.
- If unsure, don't post it. Staff should err on the side of caution when posting to social networks. If an employee feels an update or message might cause complaints or offence — or be otherwise unsuitable — they should not post it. Staff members can always consult the management for advice.
- Be thoughtful and polite. Many social media users have got into trouble simply by failing to observe basic good manners online. Employees should adopt the same level of courtesy used when communicating via email.

- Look out for security threats. Staff members should be on guard for social engineering and phishing attempts. Social networks are also used to distribute spam and malware.
- Don't make promises without checking. Some social networks are very public, so employees should not make any commitments or promises on behalf of CBS without checking that the company can deliver on the promises.
- Handle complex queries via other channels. Social networks are not a good place to resolve complicated enquiries and customer issues. Once a customer has made contact, employees should handle further communications via the most appropriate channel — usually email or telephone.
- Don't escalate things. It's easy to post a quick response to a contentious status update and then regret it. Employees should always take the time to think before responding, and hold back if they are in any doubt at all.

18.6 Authorised Users

Only people who have been authorised to use the company's social networking accounts may do so.

Allowing only designated people to use the accounts ensures the Company's social media presence is consistent and cohesive.

18.7 Purpose of company social media accounts

CBS's social media accounts may be used for many different purposes.

In general, employees should only post updates, messages or otherwise use these accounts when that use is clearly in line with the company's overall objectives.

For instance, employees may use company social media accounts to:

- Respond to customer enquiries and requests for help
- Share blog posts, articles and other content created by the company
- Share insightful articles, videos, media and other content relevant to the business, but created by others
- Provide fans or followers with an insight into what goes on at the company
- Promote marketing campaigns and special offers
- Support new product launches and other initiatives

Social media is a powerful tool that changes quickly. Employees are encouraged to think of new ways to use it, and to put those ideas to management.

18.8 Safe, responsible social media use

The rules in this section apply to:

Any employees using company social media accounts

Employees using personal social media accounts during company time

Users must not:

- Create or transmit material that might be defamatory or incur liability for the company.
- Post message, status updates or links to material or content that is inappropriate.
- Inappropriate content includes: pornography, racial or religious slurs, gender-specific comments, information encouraging criminal skills or terrorism, or materials relating to cults, gambling and illegal drugs.
- This definition of inappropriate content or material also covers any text, images or other media that could reasonably offend someone on the basis of race, age, sex, religious or political beliefs, national origin, disability, sexual orientation, or any other characteristic protected by law.
- Use social media for any illegal or criminal activities.
- Send offensive or harassing material to others via social media.
- Broadcast unsolicited views on social, political, religious or other non-business related matters.
- Send or post messages or material that could damage CBS's image or reputation.
- Interact with CBS's competitors in any ways which could be interpreted as being offensive, disrespectful or rude. (Communication with direct competitors should be kept to a minimum.)
- Discuss colleagues, competitors, customers or suppliers without their approval.
- Post, upload, forward or link to spam, junk email or chain emails and messages.

18.9 Security and data protection

Employees should be aware of the security and data protection issues that can arise from using social networks.

- Maintain confidentiality
- Users must not:
 - Share or link to any content or information owned by the company that could be considered confidential or commercially sensitive.
 - This might include sales figures, details of key customers, or information about future strategy or marketing campaigns.
 - Share or link to any content or information owned by another company or person that could be considered confidential or commercially sensitive. For example, if a competitor's marketing strategy was leaked online, employees of CBS should not mention it on social media
 - Share or link to data in any way that could breach the company's data protection policy.
- Protect social accounts
- Company social media accounts are protected by strong passwords that are changed regularly and shared only with authorised users.
- Staff must not use a new piece of software, app or service with any of the company's social media accounts without receiving approval from management
- Avoid social scams
- Staff should watch for phishing attempts, where scammers may attempt to use deception to obtain information relating to either the company or its customers.
- Employees should never reveal sensitive details through social media channels. Customer identities must always be verified in the usual way before any account information is shared or discussed.
- Employees should avoid clicking links in posts, updates and direct messages that look suspicious. In particular, users should look out for URLs contained in generic or vague-sounding direct messages.
- Potential sanctions

- Knowingly breaching this social media policy is a serious matter. Users who do so will be subject to disciplinary action, up to and including termination of employment.
- Employees, contractors and other users may also be held personally liable for violating this policy

Where appropriate, the company will involve the police or other law enforcement agencies in relation to breaches of this policy.
